Richard,

I am applying for the Video Editor II position. Resume attached.

First, the honest part. I grew up around firearms. My dad had them, and some of my best memories are heading out to the desert to shoot. I am not an avid hunter yet. Hunting has been on my bucket list for years, and I have a genuine interest in learning this industry properly rather than pretending I already know it. The closest thing I have done with real passion is paintball. I played a tremendous amount through my teens and into my early twenties, including competitively, and that world runs on a lot of the same things yours does: gear, marksmanship, and time outdoors with people who care about it.

On the work: for six years I have carried client projects alone, from ingest through grade, mix, revisions, and final delivery. DaVinci Resolve is where I am strongest. At the Arizona Legislature I rebuilt the grading pipeline to run 3x faster on log and wide-gamut originals under daily deadline. I clean dialogue and build sound in Audition, cut motion graphics in After Effects, and QC everything before it leaves my desk. 98% of my projects land on time.

Your clients sell technically detailed products to audiences who know those products better than the marketer does. I have cut construction, trades, and industrial brand films where getting a spec wrong loses the room, so protecting product accuracy is already how I work.

Samples, all edited, graded, and mixed by me:

Construction into cinema: vimeo.com/1099054535 (shot, edited, graded, and mixed)
Trades and industrial: vimeo.com/1168684272/43a1e5a08d

On collaborative projects my contribution is post-production: editorial, color, audio, motion graphics, and final delivery.

I would welcome the chance to talk.
